- MY TOP PICKS -

The top of the respective category, the wines that stood out the most and have a lot of typicality, character, good structure, length and some complexity. It should have the structure to age for some years.

Of course a top picks from Côtes du Rhône might not be of the same level as top picks from Saint-Emilion 1er Grand Cru Classé, so the category should always be considered.

2005 Château Robin - Rich and ripe on the nose, dark cherries and plums, there 's a good dose of oak there as well. Nice concentration on the palate with dark fruit, yet a good freshness, very long finish and well integrated tannins.
